BACK-UP CARE ADVANTAGE PROGRAM

Overview

Examples of when Emory employees and students should access back-up child and adult/elder care include:

- Regular caregiver calls in sick
- Child is mildly ill
- School is closed
- Parent is recovering from surgery or illness
- Travel for work
- In-between care arrangements
- You are recovering from illness and need assistance at home and no one is available to help you

What type of care is available?

Center-based child care, in-home child care, and in-home adult/elder care is available. Care recipients include infants, toddlers, preschoolers, school-age children, teens, adults and elderly family members. A care recipient could also be you.

Is there a facility near my home or work?

The program gives you access to a nationwide network of high quality, licensed child care centers, including hundreds of accredited Bright Horizons child care centers across the country. In addition, the extensive network encompasses thousands of in-home care agencies that have been identified and invited to join the network to support the needs of the workforce across geographies. Care options will depend on the availability of providers in your area and the availability of providers on any given day.

I do not see a local provider on my Back-Up Care Advantage Program website. What should I do?

You should contact the Bright Horizons Contact Center at 1-877-BH-CARES (1-877-242-2737) to determine if there are contracted providers in your local area. The contact center has the most up-to-date access to our contracted network, which may not be reflected on the website.

What is considered an adult/elder relative?

It is any adult relative for whom you have care responsibilities. This could be a parent, grandparent, spouse/domestic partner, in-law, adult child, etc.

Up to what age can a care recipient use the program? For center care, age limits will vary by location. Most centers can serve children from 6 weeks to 6 years of age; some serve children through age 12. For in-home care, there is no age limit.

How can I provide feedback regarding my care experience?

Each employee is given the opportunity to rate their experience via an electronic survey. The survey is emailed to the employee following the last date of care.

BACK-UP CARE ADVANTAGE PROGRAMCenter-Based Child CareHow can I be assured a center is a safe environment for my child?

All child care centers — Bright Horizons' centers as well as those in our extensive provider network — meet stringent quality requirements. Each center offers a developmentally-appropriate curriculum led by licensed teachers, follows strict health and safety policies, and ensures appropriate teacher-to-child ratios for each age group. Centers are specifically designed to provide a warm, inviting, and engaging environment where children actively explore and participate. Teachers in back-up care settings are all specially trained to tune into children's needs and interests, to help you comfortably transition at drop-off time, and to help children feel welcome, secure, and at ease in what is usually an unfamiliar and new environment.

Can center staff administer medication?

Each child care center in the back-up care network has their own policies regarding medications based on local and state regulation. Please check with the center you will be using should the need for medication administration exist or arise at any point during the provision of care.

Are there child care centers that accommodate sick children?

While we have several centers in our network specifically designed to accommodate and care for sick children, the vast majority of centers welcome well children only. In the event your child becomes ill during the course of the day in a center, the center staff will contact you and will keep your children comfortable in a quiet area until you arrive to take your child home. Mildly ill child care is accommodated primarily through the in-home care option.

What information will I need to bring to a child care center?

Once care is scheduled, an enrollment packet must be completed and submitted to the center. The specific materials will vary based on state and local requirements, but may include birth certificate, immunization records and primary care physician contact information. The enrollment packet is required by state licensing for the safety and care of your child and must be completed and given to the center in order to receive back-up care. Our Care Consultants can provide more details on specific requirements.

BACK-UP CARE ADVANTAGE PROGRAMIn-Home Child and Adult CareWhen would I use in-home care for my children?

In-home child care can be used when your child is mildly ill. A mild illness is defined as temporary and non-progressive in nature. For example, the child feels too ill to engage in normal everyday activities; however, does not feel so ill that they need to stay in bed, and may need short rest periods until feeling better. Typically, a child is considered mildly ill if they cannot attend school or their normal child care arrangement. Our caregivers are unable to administer medication to a loved one. If the adult is capable of taking medication, the caregiver can remind them to take it.

In-home care can also be used when a child is well. One in-home caregiver can care for up to three children.

When would I use in-home care for my adult family members?

In-home adult care is available to cover a wide-variety of care needs. Companion care can be used when you have an adult family member that lives out of town and you need a caregiver to provide companionship to them. In-home care is a perfect option if your adult family member has had minor surgery and needs someone to be with them for the first few days after arriving home. In-home care is provided to your adult family member in the comfort of their own home (or assisted living facility) and is available anywhere in the U.S. Any adult that you have care responsibilities for (relative or non-relative) is covered. Our caregivers are unable to administer medication to a loved one. If the adult is capable of taking medication, the caregiver can remind them to take it.

How can I be assured the in-home caregivers provide a safe environment?

In-home care is designed to provide comforting, individualized care for your child or adult/elder relative in the familiar surroundings of home. Whether your family member is recovering from mild illness or needs temporary care or assistance, our qualified caregivers provide in-home support so you can get to work free of worry.

There is no age limit for in-home care. In-home caregivers are all employed by the agencies Bright Horizons has contracted with and they are professionally trained, screened, and credentialed. Experienced in child or geriatric care, caregivers are carefully selected and meet stringent credentialing requirements, pass extensive background checks and screening processes, and are trained in CPR/First Aid.

As in any situation where third parties have access to your home while you are out, please take reasonable precautions to secure your cash, credit cards and other valuables or information of a financial nature.

What is the definition of “mild illness”?

Mildly ill care is defined as temporary and non-progressive in nature. For example, the person feels too ill to engage in everyday activity however, not so ill that they need to stay in bed, and may need short rest periods until feeling better. They may have low grade fever controlled by Tylenol/Ibuprofen* and able to tolerate food/fluids.

 Please note that caregivers in the Back-Up Care Advantage Program are not allowed to dispense medication.*

Can I set up a “meet and greet” with an in-home caregiver prior to needing care?

You may request to set up a “meet and greet” to meet the caregiver in advance however, we cannot guarantee that the caregiver you meet will be available on a day when you actually need back-up care. You are charged a use and any applicable co-pay. All applicable care minimums apply.

Who is authorized to greet and release the in-home caregiver?

An adult (someone who is at least 18 years of age) must be present both when the caregiver arrives and when the caregiver departs. The adult must be someone who is willing to take responsibility for the care recipient(s) should the caregiver fail to arrive or otherwise be unable to provide care at the last minute. (This can include, but is not limited to, a parent or guardian, a grandparent, an adult sibling, or a friend of the family). The adult, or adults, must be identified at the time care is requested. The parent or guardian must take responsibility for greeting and/or releasing the caregiver in the event that the adult designated is unable to perform that function.

Adult care recipients generally do not require a designated greet and release individual.

Can the in-home caregiver do light housekeeping?

Light housekeeping is reasonable as it relates to the care of the care recipient only. Light housekeeping normally includes: cleaning kitchen after meals/snack preparation, straightening up family/living room and children’s room (if the child has played in the room during the day), etc. Light housekeeping does not include the following: vacuuming, laundry, dusting, cleaning of restrooms/bathing areas, etc. (The only time that the caregiver will provide any of the above services is when the care recipient has created a mess that would require the above services).

Can the in-home caregiver prepare meals?

Meal preparation is reasonable as it relates to the care of the care recipient only. Meal preparation normally includes: cooking meals and preparing snacks for the care recipient to be eaten during the hours of care. Meal preparation does not include the following: preparing meals for upcoming days/weeks, preparing meals for other family members that are not using the benefit.

Can the in-home provider administer medication?

In-home caregivers may not dispense prescription or over-the-counter medication directly to any care recipient in their care. Caregivers may apply non-prescription topical ointments to a care recipient in their care. Caregivers are only allowed to remind the care recipient to take his or her pre-measured medication at an assigned time where authorized by the employee. You may make other arrangements for third parties to dispense medications (e.g., a neighbor), provided the caregiver is notified in advance.

In-home care professionals that can dispense medication vary by state regulations, but generally are Registered Nurses (RNs) or Licensed Practical Nurses (LPNs). Medical care must be requested at the time the reservation is placed and an additional fee of $50 per hour (1 hour minimum) will apply if dispensing of medication and/or certain medical procedures (including wound care) are required for the care provided.

Can the in-home caregiver provide transportation services?

Caregivers may not transport any care recipient in a private vehicle. Caregivers are only allowed to accompany a care recipient using public transportation (i.e. taxi, bus, train, or special transit) when required in connection with the care provided and only with the prior authorization of the employee and notification of Bright Horizons.

Can the in-home caregiver engage in outdoor activities with my family member?

Caregivers are required to provide care for care recipients in the homes of employees, the adult relative, or other authorized locations. Caregivers may leave the premises only with your prior authorization. Outdoor activities are limited by the transportation policy.

Caregivers may not accompany care recipients to any body of water (public or backyard pools, lakes, etc.) other than in connection with a pre-arranged activity with a third party responsible for the activity (e.g., a swimming lesson with an instructor) and only with your prior authorization.

Are visitors allowed to come to my home while I am using in-home care?

No visitors shall be permitted on the premises without your prior authorization. No authorized visitors may be under 18 years of age (not residing in the home). Authorized individuals must provide photo identification in order to be given access to the care recipient.

If I like a specific in-home caregiver, can I request them in the future?

Yes. Bright Horizons will work to secure care with your preferred in-home caregiver. However, the caregiver may not always be available if they are confirmed for another family's care request.

If I am traveling for work and need to bring my child, is care available in my hotel room?

Yes. Care that takes place at a hotel is provided by our in-home agency network. With written approval from you, the caregiver and the care recipient(s) are allowed to leave the room during care. Additionally, the caregiver and the care recipient(s) are allowed to leave the grounds of the hotel during care with written consent from you and must be provided to the Back-Up Care Advantage Program prior to the care taking place.

BACK-UP CARE ADVANTAGE PROGRAM

There is 4-hour minimum co-pay for all care requests.
